Amy Webb pioneered FTI’s data-driven foresight methodology that is used within hundreds of organizations globally. Her focus is to transform organizations as they prepare for complex futures. She advises CEOs of the world’s most-admired companies, three-star admirals and generals, and the senior leadership of central banks and intergovernmental organizations. She leads FTI’s technology research initiatives on AI, synthetic biology and genetic engineering, next-generation networks, and quantum technologies. Webb is a professor of strategic foresight at the New York University Stern School of Business, where she developed and teaches the MBA course on strategic foresight. She is a Visiting Fellow at Oxford University’s Said School of Business, was elected a life member to the Council on Foreign Relations and is a member of the Bretton Woods Committee. She is a member of the World Economic Forum where she serves on the Global Future Council on Media, Entertainment and Culture and the Stewardship Board of the Forum’s Platform for Shaping the Future of Media, Entertainment and Culture. Webb is the bestselling author of several books about strategic foresight and emerging technologies. A lifelong science fiction fan, she collaborates closely with writers and producers on films, TV shows and commercials about science, technology and the future.

Why FTI

We answer your most challenging questions using data, creative inquiry, and strategic foresight.

- What are plausible deep (20+ years), long-range (10+ years), and near-term (2+ years) futures?
- What scenarios describe our futures?
- What's happening outside my industry that I should know?
- What companies, startups, and partners make up our future value network?
- What new products, services, or businesses should we build?
- Which tech trends should we monitor? When should we act?
- How can we build an early warning system to see the next disruptive event?
- How do we reduce uncertainty about our futures?

We support executive leaders and their teams.

The Future Today Institute works closely with executive leadership and management teams to transform their strategic thinking on the future. Advisory services include signal mapping, trend identification, scenario development, risk modeling, visioning, and strategic planning.
About the Future Today Institute

Founded in 2006, the Future Today Institute researches, models, and prototypes future risk and opportunity. As the leading strategic foresight and futures management consultants to executive leadership teams worldwide, FTI’s data-driven applied research reveals trends and calculates how they will disrupt business, government, and society.

Together with our clients and partners, FTI is helping leaders achieve their preferred futures. Our pioneering, data-driven forecasting methodology and tools empower leaders to make better decisions about the future, today.
